

FAIRPLAY: Cards to mark Fairtrade milestone

LEEDS LORD Mayor Tom Murray and school children from Ireland Wood Primary School launched a very special Leeds Birthday card competition.

February 2014 marks 10 years of Leeds' status as a Fairtrade City and all Leeds school children are invited to design a birthday card to celebrate this great achievement.

"In 2004 Leeds worked very hard to involve the Council, businesses, faith groups and schools to attain Fairtrade City Status," said Fairtrade Leeds Chairman Hannah Langdana. "This is a great opportunity to celebrate everyone's hard work and remember how we are making a real difference to millions of people in the developing world who are getting a fair deal for their hard work."

Coun Lisa Mulherin, chairman of the board, said the impact of poverty on health was massive and included issues like social isolation and poor educational outcomes.

"It can be quite depressing because it's such a huge mountain they will do to make a difference." As well as talking about the scale of the problem, experts looked at practical and innovative ways of helping those affected.

Coun Mulherin said they would especially focus on youngsters from birth to the age of

'Onesie' walk for Co-op staff to raise cash for charity

STAFF FROM The Co-operative Funeralcare funeral homes in Rothwell, Whitkirk and Sherburn-in-Elmet will be taking part in a 'Winter Onesie Walk' in the gardens and grounds of Temple Newsam, near Colton.

They will be walking in their onesies for The Co-operative's charity of the year for 2013, Carers Trust, on Saturday December 14.

The walk will be six miles in total.
